

Thurs 18 June

Park

This morning we had a quiet start with many sleepy heads following the concert. As usual we didn't have the blistering sun to deal with. Most of the children went down to the park for a play on the swings, whilst a few of the girls opted for the warmth of the hall to carry on with crafts. After lunch we visited Helix Park and the Kelpies in Falkirk. With temperatures more akin to January than June it was a quick walk to the Kelpies, a few photographs then another quick walk to the play area where they had great fun on the slides, climbing frame and roundabout. Into the cars and minibus for the journey back to Broxburn and for some a few minutes shut eye on the way home. Hard to believe that's the last full day over and it's almost time to say goodbye. Though it is hard to say goodbye we can all do so safe in the knowledge that it has been a very successful visit, full of fun and laughter, maybe a few small tears but a visit that will have done nothing but good for our special group of children.
